

Luccock speaks at Easter convo Friday; vacation until March 26

Just three more days till Easter vacation.

A nine-day break is on tap for OU students with classes officially ending at 5 p.m. Friday. School will resume for 8 o'clock classes the day after Easter, Monday, March 26.

This year's annual Easter convocation at 9:30 Friday morning in the auditorium will feature Dr. Emory Luccock, pastor of Dundee Presbyterian Church. Richard E. Duncan will direct the University of Omaha Mixed Chorus in traditional songs.

Classes shortened

Classes will be shortened for the assembly to follow this schedule: 8-8:40; 8:45-9:25; convocation; 10:30-11:10; and 11:15-11:45.

Opening the program, Rev. Joseph Kennedy, religion instructor at OU and pastor of First Christian Church, will read the invocation.

Choir sings

The choir will blend voices in "Alleluia! Christ Is Risen," by Kapolyoff, and "In Joseph's Lovely Garden," a traditional Spanish song arranged by Dickinson.

Reverend Kennedy will also read the scripture; then the choir will sing "We Come With Voices Swelling," by Voris, and "The Three Lilies," and old Breton carol arranged by Harvey Gaul.

Dr. Luccock will deliver the Easter meditation.

Soloists

Numbers featuring soloists at the Friday morning convocation will be "Open the Gates of the Temple," by Knapp with Millicent Wheeler as soloist, and "Seraphia Song," by Rubenstein-Gaines with Helen Tiaht as soloist and Bill Fitzsimmons as violinist.

Election tomorrow for frosh, juniors

Each class will choose Council member; 15 coeds vie for Junior Prom royalty

Thirty-four students will be vying for honors at the Freshman-Junior election tomorrow. The election is set for 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the student lounge.

The majority of the candidates are junior women who are out for the Junior Prom Queen crown. Five junior men will be trying for a position on the Student Council; the remaining five freshman women are also out for a Council post.

Junior women

Voting data

Freshmen will vote for one of the Council candidates. Juniors will vote for one male Council representative and three Prom Queen candidates. The six Junior girls with the highest votes will be finalists; the Queen will be elected the night of the Junior Prom, April 6.

Council member in charge of the election is Nancy Jones. Aiding her during election hours will be members of the Council.

National honors go to 12 accounting seniors

Twelve University of Omaha senior accounting students have scored above the national median in mid-year placement tests given by the American Institute of Accountants. The tests, given for the fourth time annually to assist business schools in guidance and placement of accounting majors, is given in two sections, achievement in a accounting and business orientation.

Paul Crossman, associate professor of business administration, said: over 1200 public accounting firms in the country give weight to the results of the Institute measurement tests when employing young men and women.

Woods advises June grads 'register now'

J. E. Woods, placement office director, advises seniors to register now in room 274 if they wish the bureau to place them in a job upon completion of their college work in June.

It appears that jobs this year will be plentiful. There are exceptional opportunities constantly opening up for those who do their job hunting systematically.

Since the manpower situation is becoming more and more acute, employees are coming to the placement office for recommendations earlier and in greater numbers than ever before.

It is especially important for those who plan on teaching to register immediately. Schools hire their faculties in April and it will take at least six weeks to prepare the proper credentials.

Coach announces play cast Friday

The cast and staff of the spring dramatic production will be announced in Friday's issue of The Gateway. Mrs. Frances Key, dramatics coach, submitted the lists for "Dark Victory" to the Dean of Students' office yesterday.

Mrs. Key said there was "considerable interest and a good deal of talent" at the tryouts the afternoons of March 5 and 6.

This semester's play differs from the recent type of production offered by the dramatics department. "Dark Victory" is an emotional and serious play rather than a light comedy or mystery-comedy usually given by the OU student production class.

The University Players, the dramatic club, will produce the play. Members of the organization will not only act in and direct the production, they will work behind the scenes painting scenery and collecting props.

Debaters will attend McCook NIFA meet

OU debaters will take part in the Nebraska Intercollegiate Forensic Association meet at McCook Friday and Saturday.

Host for the invitational meet will be McCook Junior College. A general assembly is scheduled for 8:30 in the McCook college auditorium. It will be followed by various sections of the meet, discussion, and debate. The evening program will include extempore speaking for both women and men in the oratory section. Finals are scheduled for Saturday.

Teams from Omaha U had not been selected up to Friday afternoon.

Senior activity fees fall due

Senior class assessment fees are payable tomorrow, Thursday and Friday.

This has been announced by Senior Class President Willis Brown. The fees total $5.50 per person and may be paid at the ticket office between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m. The fee includes the senior banquet, dance, senior gift and class tree.

Brown stated that no activities will be held unless all seniors pay. He has sent personal letters to every senior urging prompt payment of dues for a successful Senior Day.

Staff positions open for Make-up Editors

Students interested in becoming Make-up Editors for The Gateway may apply in The Gateway office, room 304.

Any student may apply regardless of major field. Some previous journalism is important, although not necessary. Applicants must have Monday or Thursday afternoons free.

Jackson-aide subject of Faculty Series talk

The leader of Andrew Jackson's "Kitchen Cabinet" will be discussed at The Faculty Lecture, Wednesday, March 14th at 8 p. m. in the auditorium.

Dr. Frederick Adrian, associate professor of history at OU, will speak on "Amos Kendall, the Great Power of the Jackson Administration," at the meeting which is open to the public.

Dr. Adrian, who has done special research on the important role of the "Kitchen Cabinet," will tell of Kendall, the man few people ever saw during the formative years of Jackson's administration. Yet, this man of mystery was the thinker, the planner and the do-er behind the scenes.

Dr. Adrian joined the faculty of Omaha University in 1947. He received his PHD from Ohio State University.

Next Wednesday's Faculty Lecture is number three in a series of four. Co-sponsors for the 1951 series are the Town and Gown Club, the Omaha Music Teachers Association, the Business and Professional Women's Club, the Alumni Association of OU, the Nebraska Federation of Music Clubs, the Federation for Jewish Service and the Quota Club.

Symphony orchestra gives Joslyn concert Sunday; Duncan leads

Omaha University's Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Richard E. Duncan, presented a concert Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the Joslyn Memorial Concert Hall.

The program opened with Mozart's "Symphony No. 36." Oboist Lewis Kirke gave a "Concerto for Oboe and Strings," by Cimarosa.

A suite for orchestra, "The Plow" was a special highlight of the concert. The theme of the selection was taken from a government film. Composer Virgil Thomson added the background music and divided the suite into five parts: prologue, pastorella, blues, the drought, and the devastation.

James Triplett, a senior, acted as narrator for the orchestra suite of "The Plow." The prologue opened with "This is a record of land . . . of soil rather than people . . . a story of the Great Plains . . . the 400 million acres of wind-swept grasslands."

Radio workshopers set audition schedule for tomorrow, Thursday

Producer Jack Katz said tryouts will be held tomorrow from 11 to 12:30 and 1 to 3 p. m. and Thursday from 1 to 2:30 p. m.

The radio drama, "The Mirror," is a fantasy. Katz asks every student interested to try out for parts in the play. If tryout periods conflict with the student's schedule, arrangements may be made with Katz or Bruce Linton, director of the Radio Workshop.

The student members of the production staff are Jim McPherson, engineer; Dick Carlson, music; and

Lincoln authority will speak at tomorrow's Coffee Hour

The second morning Coffee Hour of the year is scheduled for tomorrow morning in the east cafeteria.

Featured at the session will be Louis A. Warren, LITT. D of Indiana. Mr. Warren is one of the foremost authorities on the life of "Abe" Lincoln. He will address the student gathering from 10 to 11 a. m.

The speaker is director of the Lincoln National Life Foundation, which contains a complete file on the life of the sixteenth president. Mr. Warren has addressed such groups as universities, including OU, Rotary Clubs, advertising clubs, historical clubs and Kiwanis clubs.

Life work

He has devoted his entire life to gathering and publishing facts about the life of Lincoln. As the result of his lifelong work he was one of the few invited to take part in the program of the formal opening of the Lincoln Papers in the Library of Congress.

Student panel

Panel members will be Joan Bugbee, Ed Klima and Leonard Leftitz. Coffee will be served.

Mr. Warren was scheduled for the Feb. 14 Coffee Hour, but was unable to attend.

Coffee Hour Chairman June Williams commented, "Mr. Warren is noted as an interesting speaker. I'm sure the student body will find this session one of the top ones on the semester's agenda."

The Gateway

Vol. 30

University of Omaha, Omaha, Nebr., March 13, 1951

No. 39

This week I was going to continue my discussion of the brighter side of the draft problem. Between then and now, though, I read an article which made me see the light—excuse me, shadow.

The article appeared in "Ducquesne," a Penn. college magazine. It takes a couple of paragraphs talking about the "distant thunder in Korea," "grade-sheet casualties," and such, and then comes up with this sentiment:

"He finds it (ambitions) almost totally eclipsed by the military. He lives with a shadow. It appears on his cereal in the morning and on his textbook at night. As far as we know, no one including the psychologists have come up with anything to make the shadow go away."

Isn't that terrible? For some time I've had difficulty seeing my cereal in the morning, and it's been almost impossible to find my textbooks—it must have been that darn shadow.

You can see how tough it is. Mom tells our young man what kind of cereal to eat, the prof tells him what textbooks to buy, but no one (the meanies) tell him what to do about the shadow.

Of course, our hero could enlist, but that would spoil all the fun. All he has to do is stretch out in the shade and relax.

The editor didn't get this one, so I guess we can print it:

Sal: "Where'd you get the fur coat?"

Jean: "Fellow gave it to me."

Sal: "Gee, what'd you have to do?"

Jean: "Just shorten the sleeves."

A new movie, "Royal Wedding," has a song titled, "How Could You Belive Me When I Said I Love You Know I've Been a Liar All My Life."

Not to be outdone Walter Winchell mentions this one: "If It Wasn't For Your Father Would Your Mother Be Your Mother? So Remember Dad On Mother's Day."

Which reminds me of an old favorite: "You've Thrown Acid In Mother's Face, Cut Off Daddy's Legs, Run My Brother Mort Down In a Truck, So Why Don't You Say You're Sorry?"

Dancer's routines keep one guessing

By Jim Bourne

The night of the dance rolled around before I knew it. Sara Goodflunk, my date, was ready when I came to call for her. The dance would have to be formal and I still say I look like a penguin in dad's old tux. We stood in front of her place arguing over who would drive. She finally won, and I sat behind her on the motor scooter.

When we arrived, the dance floor was crowded and the brass band was blowing its brains out.

Sara and I danced one number. She couldn't stand my stepping on her toes and I tired of dragging her around, so we sat down.

For pure amusement we took notice of the dancing couples and classified them as follows:

The Clinch - this position is for the couples going steady. In it the boy has cruelly twisted his date's right arm around his back. It's a cinch the gal isn't going to get away with anything short of a broken arm.

The feature page got a nice compliment the other day.

A reader told me that she thought one of the stories in the last issue was just a scream.

As an afterthought she added that "You should print some other funny stuff sometime."

Hmmmm . . .

Something for uncle

'Revenooers' request only their fair share

By Jim (I paid mine) Bourne

In comes March and income taxes. Between now and tomorrow night thousands of Americans will be rushing to beat the midnight mailing deadline when income reports for 1950 must be filed.

If you earned over $600, Uncle Sam wants to hear from you. If you earned over $500, your parents are probably ready to disown you. This means they will have to pay the government an extra fee for just having you around. See, your parents aren't so bad after all.

The American press is definitely on the taxpayers side of the fence. Almost every popular magazine from "True Detective" to "Twice Told Tales" have been publishing reports on how to cut your tax rate. It seems everyone wants to beat the government.

The government takes the cynical, stoic attitude by saying, "we don't want you to pay us more than you owe us, just give us our share." Their share these days (28 cents on the dollar, the highest in history) is nothing to laugh at.

The taxpayer should have thought of cutting his taxable earnings during the year, and not two days before March 15. Records prove the government will gladly spend $1000 to get back $1 which a taxpayer attempted to "forget" on his form.

Roderic Crane, genial econ instructor at the university, in a lecture on "How to Beat the Internal Revenue Department" says, "tax avoidance is legal, but tax evasion is not." Students have gained much from Prof. Crane's ideas.

One magazine lists dos and don'ts when attempting to marry, or to shoot your mother-in-law. The mag insists the best day to get married is Dec. 31. Even though you have supported your new wife

The Runners - here the couple is just full of bouyant energy. They run around the floor with a snappy step and really cover the ground. Looks like a rush in bargain basement.

The tango-samba-waltz-jitterbug combination - this is the zenith of every Arthur Murray enthusiast. This is a complicated step. It defies definition. It looks good. Everyone is fascinated.

I felt very embarrassed when Sara and I returned to the floor. I couldn't copy any of the steps or positions I had just watched. I went back to stepping on Sara's toes and continued to drag her around.

As we were dancing, Sara looked up at me and asked, "Chee ain't this livin'?"

We're looking for Hey . . . hey . . . ! It's worth a try gripes from you!

The Gateway editors are always open to criticism, and they get it, from both students and faculty.

But this criticism is verbal and usually either joked off, forgotten or just not spoken about again. And in many cases taken to heart and corrected.

So, in order that your gripe will not be tossed off someones shoulder write it down and give it to some responsible person in the Gateway office, if you know of any.

We will answer your letter either in a private answer or if it is something that is of interest to a lot of students we will print it.

In other words we are going to start a Letters to the Editor Column. Let's hear from you!

There's a trick to it! Dr. Garlough Biology professor says so. He says that there is a certain way you have to do it so that it comes out just the way you want it to. He even volunteered to show his class how.

He says that one side of a penny is heavier than the other side and it takes an expert to make them come out all heads or all tails!

Time magazine reports the following: "In Oklahoma City, President George L. Cross of the University of Oklahoma arguing for more money, used a new pitch for the appropriations committee of the state legislation a few weeks ago. "We're working" he told them, to develop a University the football team can be proud of."

Most thought provoking headline . . . From the Brigham Young University, Utah—"Winter Weather Won't Wet Wedding Wishers."

A request, but no pressure . . .

We understand the collection boxes placed around the university for the Nebraska Crippled Children's fund have drawn forth considerable student comment. The same goes for the plastic heart sponsored by the American Heart Association in the Student Center a while back.

Some students have asked whether these collection boxes and their accompanying posters don't violate the spirit of the annual Campus Chest drive. They have pointed out that the Campus Chest was organized to prevent continuous soliciting of contributions from students.

The distinction seems to be this: The Campus Chest is an all-school drive. It is sponsored by the Student Council in cooperation with other university organizations. All students are asked to support the drive as a part of their community responsibilities.

On the other hand, such collections as the one now in progress are not all-school in nature. They are organized by interested students, with the consent of the cafeteria, bookstore and Student Center managers. The student body is not solicited personally, but is merely given an opportunity to make contributions.

This seems fair enough to us. After all, the organizations mentioned above did not have a chance to benefit from the Campus Chest drive. They are organizations which meet a definite need in our society. Certainly they have the right to present to the university their request.

Sig Ep's clinch both 'mural fraternity basketball laurels

Townsend becomes badminton champ

Sigma Phi Epsilon is the new intramural and inter-fraternity basketball champion. The Sig Ep's defeated Theta Phi Delta Thursday afternoon to clinch both titles. The score was 26-24.

With Lowell Zeplin, Dick McKee and Pee-wee Schultz carrying most of the scoring burden, Sig Ep had a seven point lead at one point. But in the last minute, Louie Anderson hit two quick baskets for Theta. However, Sig Ep engineered a stall for the last seconds.

Zeplin was high point man for Sig Ep with 11 markers, while Bernie Anderson scored nine for Theta.

Pawnees rapped ISA, 31-15, to gain a share of second place in the 'mural league. Bill Duffack led the losers with five points. His five points gave Duffack the scoring title for the league. Red Nielsen hit ten markers for Pawnees.

Meanwhile, the badminton singles title was decided. Jim Townsend of Sigma Phi Epsilon defeated Glen Gowen for the championship, 15-5, 15-6.

Baseballers work on calisthenics thus far

Baseball hopefuls have continued to focus their work on calisthenics the past week, rounding into shape in preparation for the season grind.

As of last Friday, March 9, exactly 46 candidates had reported for practice.

Pitchers battling for the mound chores are: Bob Offerjost, Bud Bridenbaugh, Larry Micheels, Bill Duffack, Lynn Hooten, Gary Penisten, Don Hopkins, Charles Wroblewski, James Hunter and Bob Hempel.

Candidates fighting to start behind the plate include Richard Harrison, John McCourt, Jim Danze, Jim Spencer, Tom Hickey, Larry Brehm, Bob Krist, Ray Selk and Gordon Baker.

Competing for the outfield positions are John Potts, Andy Markinkovich, Bob Murray, Jerry Quinane, Newell Breyfogle, Alan Heath, Joe Arenas, Ed Davis and Roger Orr.

"Bugs" Redden seems to be headed for the varsity position on second base, as no others that are out have signed up for the key-stone sack.

Other infielders besides Redden include: Aksel Schmidt, Don Maseman, Orville Jensen, Lee Nelson, Don Claussen, Ernie Lee, Louie Marcuzzo, Bob Stephens, Bob Williams, Bob Chedester, Bob Almen, Dick McKee, Tom Mosiman, Charlie Vincent, Don Palmquist and Merlyn Fratt.

Coach Virg Yelkin will miss last year's regular third baseman and first sacker. Walt Matejka graduated and Bob McNutt isn't out this season.

Golf team loses four from 1950 squad, two back

Although seriously depleted by the loss of four lettermen, Omaha U golfers will be out to better last year's 8-4 record. Missing from the 1950 squad are team captain Bill Berner, John Duncan, Don Young, and Bill Hargens.

Bob Lindberg and Gordon Severa will be the nucleus of the '51 links crew. Lindberg is the only returning veteran while Severa, although not a letterman, received seasoning on last year's team.

Lof transfers

Coach John Campbell has great expectations for Garth Lof, a transfer student from Nebraska. Other promising linksmen include Bob Russell, Tom Jauss, and Bob Anderson. Another keen man on the fairway is Bob Murray; but whether he will play golf or join the baseball club is the big question.

Weather is again the main roadblock in the golfers' progress. So far the aspirants have been practicing driving into nets placed in the Fieldhouse.

Weather permitting, tryouts will be held either during spring vacation or around the first of the month.

UN first foe

First match on the agenda is an April 16 engagement with Nebraska. Omaha U will also tee off against Colorado, Washburn, and Wichita at home and meet Drake in Des Moines. Home matches have been contracted with Doane, Midland, Morningside, and Nebraska.

Schedule and dates are still tentative so no exact slate can yet be drawn up.

Last season's squad in winning eight of twelve matches dropped Midland, Doane, and Nebraska Wesleyan twice each in addition to single victories over Morningside and York.

Theta's tie Sig Ep's for top bowling spot

Sigma Phi Epsilon dropped two out of three games to the Theta Phi Delta bowlers Thursday. Theta's wins gave them a share of the league lead. Each team has a 34-17 record to date.

In other games played, Theta Chi took two out of three from Pawnees. The win put Theta Chi seven games out of first place.

Last week's third place team, Phi Epsilon Pi forfeited three games to Sigma Lambda Beta. The loss dropped Phi Ep four games out of first. ISA also won by forfeit, from Sioux. Pawnees, Theta Chi and ISA are now just a game apart.

The week's high game was bowled by Jack Browning of Sig Ep. It was a 196 in the first match for Browning. Anderson of Theta took second high game with 188.

Jack Meisel of Pawnees rolled the high series with a 531 while Howard Vogt, also of Theta, took runner-up honors with a 499 series.

Standings

Sigma Phi Epsilon	34	17
Theta Phi Delta	34	17

Chi O's, Unaffiliated No.1 deadlock in OUWI feature basketball game

The OUWI basketball game of No. 1 came back with three baskets and two free throws to pull even. Both teams missed free throws which would have decided the game.

Chi Omega and Unaffiliated No. 1 battled to a 12-12 tie. The two teams, usually high-scoring outfits, battled on even terms throughout.

At the end of the first quarter, the score was tied at 2-2, but Chi O gained a 9-4 halftime margin. In the fourth period, Unaffiliated

Maxine Kuehl of Unaffiliated led scorers with eight points, while Jo Thorson hit five for Chi O. The guarding was close on both sides.

According to women's basketball rules, the tie stands.
